July Industrial Payrolls Up

Year's Total Lags Behind 1956 Rate

The industrial payroll for July was $103,722 higher than it was for the same month in 1956, Castle M. Smith, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said today.

However, Smith pointed out, the payroll figure for the first seven months of 1957 is $498,297 less than it was for the corresponding period last year.

Payrolls last month totaled $1,576,517, while for July one year ago the figure was $1,472,795.

Money issued in 1957 for payrolls has totaled $12,768,784. Last year for the same period, the amount was $13,267,081.

The July industrial payroll in 1955 was $1,488,610, and payrolls for the first seven months of that year totaled $11,819,940.

The monthly breakdown for 1957 payrolls is as follows:

January, $1,582,212; February, $1,638,036; March, $1,750,225; April, $2,105,256; May, $2,106,618; June $2,009,920 and July, $1,576,517.

Western Electric Co., CWA Continue Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Contract negotiations between the strike-threatened Western Electric Co. and the Communication Workers of America (CWA) continue today. Telephone equipment installers continue to work without a contract.

A four-hour negotiating session Monday failed to remove the strike threat.

Joseph E. Dunne, national director of the CWA, said he had no plans to call the workers out before today's meeting. The union represents 23,000 telephone equipment installers in 4 states, including Ohio, and the District of Columbia.

A one-year contract between Western Electric, manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, and the installers' unit of the CWA expired at midnight Sunday.

The union said it has asked for a wage rise of 16 cents an hour and 6 additional cents in other benefits. The company, which has offered a general wage increase of 4 to 9 cents an hour, has estimated the overall union demand, with all benefits, at 58 to 60 cents an hour.

Wages now range from $1.39 to $2.38 an hour, with different rates in different areas of the nation. Past strikes have had little effect on the general public unless prolonged. Only if picket lines are honored by telephone employees or automatic installations begin to break down is normal phone service disrupted.

Mild Effects of Asian Flu Told

Health Head Cites Common Symptoms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said today that if you get Asian flu you probably won't be any worse off than with many an everyday sickness.

"Even if an epidemic should develop," the head of the U.S. Public Health Service said, "if present trends continue, the 10 to 20 per cent of the people who might contract Asian influenza would have a relatively mild illness, with symptoms which are commonplace accompaniments of many everyday illnesses in our society."

Burney's comments were contained in a speech for a special meeting of the Association of State and Territorial Health Officers of the United States. Burney called the meeting to discuss what could be done to reduce the amount of illness caused by the new flu virus.

He said that while no flat prediction can be made "it seems quite probable that there will be epidemics in this country some time during the fall or winter."

He said he is happy to report that manufacturers are optimistic about reaching or exceeding the goal of 60 million doses of vaccine by February.

If 10 per cent of a community were stricken at the same time, he said, facilities for medical care might be strained, and "if the disease should be concentrated among certain occupations, this could present a problem in the maintenance of essential community services."

The health service announced Monday the release of another 85,000 doses of the vaccine. This was the second batch to be cleared for military and civilian use. The first, released Aug. 12, totaled 502,001 doses. Six licensed manufacturers are producing the vaccine.

President Eisenhower Monday was inoculated against Asian flu on the recommendation of Burney. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower had been in contact last week with two persons who later

Foes Appear Reconciled to Defeat

House Set to Pass 'Rights' Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House was poised to pass quickly today a compromise civil rights bill. But there were signs of possible rear-guard action by Southerners in the Senate.

In the House, Southern foes of civil rights legislation appeared reconciled to defeat. But in the Senate, some Southerners were holding out for a filibuster against the compromise.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said he couldn't forecast what might happen. He indicated it would be up to individuals.

"There is a lot of opposition to this compromise, which really wipes out the jury trial amendment," he said. "There will be some long speeches against it."

He said it was possible that even if no filibuster develops the Senate may not get to vote on the bill this week.

Congressional leaders have been pointing toward adjournment by this weekend.

Though falling short of President Eisenhower's original program, the bipartisan compromise was clearly the best he could expect. It centered on a Senate-passed provision guaranteeing defendants the right of jury trial in cases of criminal contempt of court.

As originally proposed by the administration, the bill would have empowered the attorney general to apply for court injunctions to protect civil rights in general. Persons who violated such injunctions could have been jailed by federal judges for contempt of court. The House passed a bill conforming generally to the administration's program.

The Senate voted to limit the judge's powers by requiring jury trials for any person charged with criminal contempt of court. The Senate jury trial provision also would have applied for a wide range of laws not touching on civil rights but including such matters as labor injunctions under the Taft-Hartley Act.

The compromise, hammered out informally by Republican and Democratic leaders, would narrow the jury trial provision to apply only to voting rights cases and would give federal judges a limited right to try without a jury persons accused of violating court orders in such cases.

As sent to the House, the compromise bill provides that in criminal contempt cases where judges proceed without juries, defendants could demand a new trial by jury if the penalty ex-

Both Parties Predict Victory

Wisconsin to Choose McCarthy's Successor

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin has not sent a Democrat to the U. S. Senate in 25 years since time Republican Gov. Walter Kohler Jr., a firm supporter of President Eisenhower.

The supporters of Democratic candidate William Proxmire, however, could see nothing but victory for their nominee, who has been defeated in three tries for the governor's post—including two beatings by Kohler.

The stormy, 10-year-career of McCarthy, who died May 2, was expected to have little bearing on the outcome. A McCarthy vote as such appears to be almost nonexistent. The election is for the remainder of McCarthy's term, which ends in January 1959.

Philleo Nash, Democratic state chairman, predicted flatly that Proxmire would win, contending there was disagreement among Republican party people.

The race between Kohler and Proxmire apparently tightened recently due to heavy campaigning by both candidates, but a Proxmire victory would be considered an upset.

The outcome of the election will not immediately affect Senate control. The Democrats now hold a 49-45 edge.

Kohler, 53, completed his third term as governor in January. He was out of the political picture for only a few months before entering the race.

Kirschner's death is one of the famous unsolved killings in the Greater Cincinnati area and was publicized last year in a crime series here.

Kirschner's boat, the Ben Franklin, was destroyed by fire six weeks after the killing, but this was not linked to the owner's death.

There is a discrepancy in the mention of a baby, since investigation showed that only the victim's wife and 25-year-old son, plus a young companion of the burglar, were present at the shooting.

Chief Fritz Monday sent Detective L. C. Riley and Clifford Wolf to Cattleburg where the letter was postmarked Aug. 22.

Washingtonville Lets Sewage Contract

The Braun Construction Co. of Warren was awarded the sanitary sewage system contract on a bid of $174,000 last night by the Washingtonville Village Council.

Although three other bids were submitted to Council, only the Braun Co. bid qualified since the other three omitted inclusion of stipulated legal papers.

A Braun Co. spokesman indicated to Council that work on the project will begin about the middle of September. The contract calls for the full construction job, including construction of a disposal plant system.

Washingtonville has been without any type of sewage system for several years, and Village Council several months ago began work on securing such a system.

New Missile May Seriously Affect Power Balance

Soviets Say Rocket May Be Fired at Any Area on Globe

MOSCOW (AP)—The Kremlin has come forth with the first claim of successfully testing an intercontinental rocket missile capable of marking the most important Soviet military advance reported since Russia exploded her first H-bomb in August 1953. If put into mass production, the nuclear-armed missile would seriously affect the world balance of power.

So far there is no known defense against such a rocket.

The statement broadcast to the world said the "super-range, multistage" rocket was tested several days ago. The missile flew at a record altitude, it said, covered a vast distance in a brief time and homed in on the target area.

The announcement did not say that the test rocket carried a nuclear warhead. But the statement confirmed that a series of successful blasts of nuclear and thermonuclear (hydrogen) weapons had been set off in the Soviet Union in recent days. The United States announced last week that the Russians had resumed atomic tests in Siberia.

(Some members of the U.S. Congress were skeptical of the Russian rocket claim, some labeling it propaganda. But en. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), former Air Force secretary, said that in the past such Kremlin announcements usually turned out to be fact. The Canadian defense minister, Maj. Gen. G. Randolph Peakes, said he doubted the Russians were ahead of the West in development of an intercontinental rocket.)

Moscow radio said the missile can reach any "distant area without the use of strategic aviation, which is at present vulnerable to anti-aircraft defense."

"The result of the test proved

Spectator Now

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—When the U.S. National Tennis Tournament gets under way at Forest Hills Friday, among the spectators will be one of the great stars of the sport in an earlier day.

"It'll be a busman's holiday for me," said Frank Hunter, who won the world's doubles titles in 1927 with Bill Tilden and was ranked by Tilden as among the 15 best tennis players of all time.

Although now past 60, Hunter still keeps an active interest in tennis, which he says has been "a wonderful calling card all my life."

"The pros today are playing the best tennis that has ever been played. The game is faster now because the whole emphasis is on net play."

"The best of the modern players is 'Pancho' Gonzales, but I think that, on the record, Tilden was the greatest player the game has ever known, although he played a different type of game."

"A champion plays as well as it is necessary for him to play in order to win, and Tilden was a champion who could meet any emergency."

Hunter, now president of "21" Brands, Inc., a liquor concern, was a stocky, aggressive player himself, famous for his powerful forearm smash. He ranked second to Tilden in 1927 through 1929, quit the game in 1936.

"I gave up when I found I was six inches short on the overhead shots and missing the long reach shots by a foot," he said, smiling. "It's not much fun to continue playing a sport when you know you've passed your peak."

"I think that is the mistake some players make now. They stay in competitive tennis too long after it's clear they are not really going anywhere."

After putting away his tennis racket, Hunter turned to the golf club and the rifle. He still has trouble breaking 80 on the links, but has become one of the nation's more renowned bird and big game hunters.

Frank has one of the most fabulous penthouse apartments in New York atop an old west 5th Street brownstone, built by a railroad tycoon who didn't like to be kept waiting when he wanted something.

"He kept 22 servants in the place," said Frank.

Among the 30 or more silver cups and plates he brought home from his tennis wars is one that Hunter loves to show to visitors. It was given to him years ago by "Jack and Charlie," proprietors of the 21 restaurant. It is a silver statue of man hurling a silver ball by the horns and is engraved: "To the outstanding bull thrower of cafe society."

HOMEWORTH

Garden Club Flower Show To Be at Masonic Temple

HOMEWORTH — The Homeworth Garden Club will hold a Flower Show Sept. 13 at the Masonic Temple in Homeworth. Mrs. Athel Hahn is general chairman of the show.

The Garden Club held a picnic dinner recently near the home of Mrs. Harry Hahn. A business session was conducted by Mrs. Lowell Wagner, the president.

Members were urged to display floral arrangements at the Stark County Fair to be held in Canton, Sept. 2-6. "Straw work" was presented during the meeting and floral arrangements were made to be sold at the Homeworth Flower show. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Athel Hahn.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD STOFFER and son Terry have returned home after vacationing this past week in Florida. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Chester Knoll and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pickens and family of Eustis. The Knolls and Pickens were former residents of Homeworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Malone have returned home after a month's vacation at their cabin on Lake Champlain in Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson and daughter Sarah of Sierra Vista, Ariz., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Marteney.

Malinda Ann is the name Mr. and Mrs. William Beckett Jr. have given their daughter, born Aug. 15 in the Alliance City Hospital. Mrs. Beckett is the former Ellen Borton, daughter of Mrs. Alice Borton of the Freeburg - Homeworth Rd. John Borton, quarterback with the Cleveland Browns football team, is an uncle of the baby.

MISS MARGARET WALLACE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forney of the Elkton Road, spent a few days visiting her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Campbell, in Canton, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forney entertained with a picnic dinner Saturday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Loren Suthern of East Palestine and Omar Wellendorf of Berlin Center.

Philip Converse, accompanied by his brother Jimmy, is in Columbus attending the State Fair. Philip is a contestant in the Tractor Rodeo.

E. Palestine Pottery Is Sued For $40,000

LISBON — A civil suit for $50,000, allegedly due him in commission fees, was filed in Common Pleas Court Monday by E. D. Nall of Alliance, doing business as the Switzer China Company, Louisville Rd. 1.

W. S. George Pottery Co. of East Palestine was named defendant in the suit.

Nall claims in his petition that over the last six years while acting as jobber representative for the defendant, he has sold to Sabins Manufacturing Company Inc. of McKeesport, Pa., $800,000 worth of pottery ware for the defendant. He claims he should have received $40,000 as his commission on the pottery.

Society Might Learn Lesson From Primitives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sociologists were told today that juvenile delinquency might be curbed if American society adopted some equivalent of the rites with which primitive tribes initiate boys into manhood.

Arthur Niederhoffer of the New York City Police Academy and Prof. Herbert A. Bloch of Brooklyn College described such primitive puberty rites as scarification (marking with scars), tattooing, trial by ordeal, "and a host of other painful and exotic practices."

In a paper prepared for the American Sociological society, Niederhoffer and Bloch said that through these customs certain societies "have laboriously contrived to discipline their young for the great adventure" of manhood.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Doris Jean Worthington, 38, was charged with assault and battery Monday in the brutal beating of her daughter, 14-year-old Hope LaVerne Brown, here on vacation from Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Worthington denied the charge. The daughter, whose skull was fractured in the Aug. 17 beating, said her mother hit her because of an argument over the girl's boy friends. She later reverted to an earlier story that a man assaulted her but police said they believe she was telling the truth about her mother.

U.S. Women Should Take Look at Lot Of Red Secretaries

American secretaries who complain about occasional overtime, fussy bosses or no air conditioning might take a look at a secretary's lot behind the Iron Curtain. Hildegard Jones (that's not her real name, of course) is one who has seen both sides. Young, pretty and full of wonder at the fabulous opportunities for a working girl in America, she worked as a secretary in her Communist-dominated native Hungary for five years. After fleeing to Vienna during the tragic uprising in Hungary last year, she arrived in New York early this year and found a secretarial job immediately through the efforts of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

"Nobody back home would believe it if I told them about the beautiful offices, kind treatment, good salaries and modern equipment a secretary has in an office in New York," she says. "If such things were available there, every young woman in the country would try to be a secretary."

She marvels at the statistics in a survey made recently by Norman Saksvig, educational director for Smith-Corona, which reveals that 61 per cent of American secretaries own their own cars; 59 per cent have television sets, 60 per cent own portable typewriters and 6 per cent own record players.

"In Hungary I worked six days a week, and my pay was 1,450 florints (about $55) a month," says Hildegard. "Here I work five days a week and earn $215 a month. There I had to spend almost all my salary just for food and shelter—there wasn't enough left over for clothes."

Police Hold Cleveland Man for Questioning

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 55-year-old Cleveland man is being held for further questioning today in the death of Nick Miller, a Wheeling, W. Va. cafe owner whose body was found in his own car last week.

Jack Russell was questioned and given a lie detector test Monday, officers said, but he was unable to provide any helpful information.

Mrs. Ruby Harrington, 25, of Mount Vernon, Ohio, was also given a lie test and later released. County Detective Chief Henry Piper said Russell and Mrs. Harrington were known to be with Miller in Wheeling shortly before he disappeared Aug. 15.

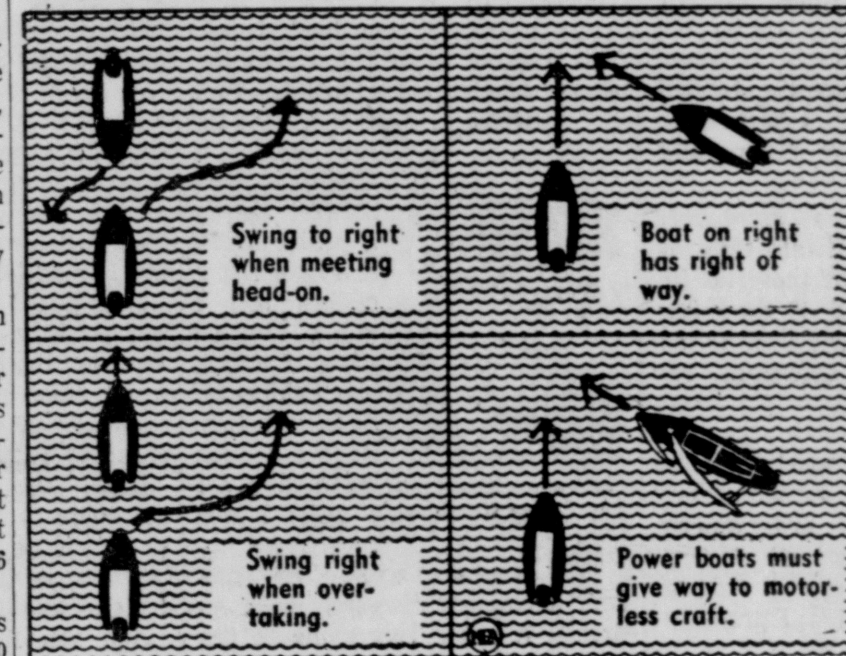

Miller's death still has police baffled. An autopsy failed to show what caused his death. Officers said he had been dead several days when his body was discovered.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Earl L. "ROAD" RULES—The need for greater safety on U.S. waterways has led to the introduction in the House of Representatives of three identical bills. Boating experts have warned for years that stiffer regulations would be enacted if skippers failed to obey the simple rules of water "roads." Diagrams above show the correct thing to do in four common situations. The new bills, still pending, strike at "reckless or negligent" boat operation.

New Requirements In Effect On 'Motor Cycle' Licenses

Effective today, children 14 years of age and older will face new requirements when it comes to obtaining a "motor-driven cycle" driver's license.

According to amended Senate Bill No. 174, a "motor-driven cycle" is every motor cycle and scooter with a five-horsepower motor and every bicycle with a motor attached. The five-horsepower limitation also applies to all vehicles for which a motor-driven cycle license is issued.

The bill states that a youth must be at least 14 years of age and pass an examination on vision and motor laws, besides successfully completing an actual driving test to get a license.

THE TEMPORARY PERMIT is good for 30 days and must be signed by the youth's parent in the presence of a notary public.

The routine in obtaining this type of license differs from the procedure in getting an automobile license. A person seeking an auto driver's license first obtains a permit to learn to drive which is good for six months.

During that time, if he believes he can pass the tests, he applies to take his exam. This exam consists of a vision test, and law exam besides the regular driving exams.

However, in obtaining a motor scooter license, a person first must pass a vision and law test to secure a permit. Then, within 30 days thereafter, he must successfully pass the driving exam.

The license is good for three years.

It must be remembered that when a person becomes 16, the motor cycle license cannot be used to drive an auto.

A person then must undergo a complete examination to obtain an automobile driver's license.

Appointments to take the tests may be made by calling the state highway patrol barracks in Lisbon. Patrolmen say that tests may be taken at any time. The number is Harrison 4-7422.

Once a person has passed a driver's test, he will be issued a temporary license until his real license is mailed to him from Columbus. This procedure is similar to when a person passes an automobile driving test.

LICENSE PLATES are obtainable at the auto club.

Motor scooters and motorcycles require motorcycle plates, while motor bicycles do not require state license plates but are subject to local license requirements.

Once a person has obtained his license, he will be able to operate his motor scooter only in the daytime.

Visible Scar

Shortly after Congress adjourns, adding machines will clatter to work on the net effect of the budget outcry that made the welkin ring in Washington last spring.

Depending on whose figures are used, because no one set of figures reveals everything about federal budget complexities, a net saving of somewhere between three and five billion dollars will be apparent.

This will represent the visible scar left by the great budget-cutting movement that got under way last spring. At one time, the cutters were talking about taking off as much as 10 billion dollars from the White House total of $81,700,000,000. That would have been a major operation. The cut actually made was a minor operation.

There is supposed to be a political mystery about the reason there was any operation at all. The first reaction from President Eisenhower's budget message of Jan. 16 was mild. Republicans pointed with pride to the surplus over anticipated income over anticipated spending. Democrats made routine objections to its size. But there was no popular outcry.

The outcry did not become vociferous until March. When it finally gained momentum, it threatened for a time to be unstoppable. Why did it happen when it did?

The reason was the fact that millions of taxpayers were working on their 1956 tax returns during March and the first half of April. They were made aware of the hopelessness of a situation in which taxpayers must underwrite ever-increasing government costs, with no prospect of relief, barring a popular uprising against spending.

It will happen again next spring; the outcry will be louder in 1958 than it was in 1957. It will happen in 1959, and it will happen in 1960. Unless taxpayers have established control over federal spending by 1960, the next national election will be decided on the spending issue.

Job for the Referee

The sparring for advantage between the president of United Auto Workers and the president of General Motors has been inconclusive. It probably will be the same way in the case of Ford and Chrysler, the other major auto manufacturers who received Walter Reuther's proposal to cut prices on his promise to temper next year's UAW contract demands to the shorn lamb.

Manufacturers must reject the implication that UAW should have something to say about their price levels. UAW, in turn, will reject Harlow Curtice's implication that the union should freeze wage levels.

If it be granted that both parties are sincerely interested in halting depreciation of the dollar, their mutual rejection of proposals amounts to an admission that inflation is not subject to control by private decision. This same admission was made by Roger Blough in testimony before a Senate Banking and Currency subcommittee, when he explained how inflation forced United States Steel Corp. to raise prices against its better judgment.

When President Eisenhower appealed to management and labor to repress inflation, he directed his appeal to the wrong parties. It should have been directed to the public, the ultimate referee in all sparring matches for economic advantage. Realization that the consumer really is the ultimate referee may be the net result of all the sparring now in progress, by management, by labor and by government.

Exile for Drones

The Soviet Union has come up with a good idea for a change, though we shudder at some of the things that could be done with it. Every household of 10 persons or more, every neighborhood, every city, every district and every Soviet republic soon will have authority to send drones into exile by majority vote.

A drone would be any person refusing to contribute according to his ability to the sum total of worthwhile effort — the most attractive point in classical socialist theory. Authority to send into exile, presumably to Siberia, would be limited to vagrants and ne'er-do-wells. Criminals would be handled in courts.

But in addition to laws to punish criminals, there would be a social law to deal with ordinary vagrancy. Free riders would be pitched off the gravy train, unless they were willing to roll up their sleeves and go to work.

Our own Pilgrim fathers felt this way about parasites. The principle is still written into our unemployment compensation laws, which specify that beneficiaries must be willing to work if offered a job. There is no handy Siberia to send vagrants and loafers to by majority vote in the United States, but they belong in exile, by common consent.

It really isn't nice for a laundress to steal a family's best hotel towels.

Now comes the summer season when northerners don't have to go south to get into the swim.

'Week Of Infamy?'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Civil Rights Bill Would Void 14th Amendment

This may turn out to be the week that future historians will call "the week of infamy" in American history. For this is the week in which an intolerant majority in Congress is to take away one of the most important rights given to the Constitution.

In fact the federal government now is to become the policeman authorized by a law-in disregard of the Constitution—to arrest and put in jail not only those local officials of the states who seek to obey the voting procedures as set forth in their state laws but those individuals who allegedly influence improperly he votes of other persons.

Nearly 20 years ago William E. Borah of Idaho, a great progressive and perhaps the greatest of the "liberals" of this century—a man who first achieved fame as a lawyer for organized labor and who recently was named as one of the 15 deserving honorable mention for the Hall of Fame of the United States Senate—made a historic speech when the same basic principle now at stake in "civil rights" legislation was up for debate in connection with an anti-lynching bill.

HE SAID to the Senate:

"I make no contention but that the Fourteenth Amendment has forever placed it beyond the power of any state to deny any person the equal protection of the laws, or to deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process."

"I recognize also that the state acts and speaks through its officers, legislative, judicial, and executive. I am not going to take refuge in technicalities, but I contend for what I believe to be a fundamental principle, and that is that while you may call a state thus acting and thus speaking to account, you cannot take jurisdiction over or deal with acts and deeds not done by the authority and by the direction of the state. It must at all times be state action."

"You cannot deal with acts under the Fourteenth Amendment not done by and under the authority and direction of the state. The dereliction of an officer in violation of the laws of the state, in disregard of the sworn duty exacted of him by the state, and subject to punishment by the laws of the state, cannot by any possible construction, either in law or in conscience, be the act of the state."

"TO ESTABLISH any such principle would be to undermine and break down the integrity of every state in the Union."

"If a state may not be entrusted exclusively with the authority and relied upon to exercise the authority to punish those who violate its own laws, public or private persons, then there is no such thing as local government, because the state is deprived of the very instrumentality by which it maintains state integrity."

The proposed "civil rights" legislation is aimed at local officials who in spite of state laws which say to them that they must not discriminate nevertheless are alleged to be denying Negroes the vote.

It is aimed also at any individual who exercises any influence that can be described by the words "intimidate, threaten, coerce," or "attempts to coerce," in voting.

But who is to say that in the many heated discussions between individuals during modern campaigns, the influence actively exerted by precinct workers for labor unions or by employers or by committees formed by other groups, including church organizations, is not an attempt sometimes "to coerce" by "causing" a person to vote for one candidate as against another?

FOR NOW the federal government through a special division in the Department of Justice, created by the proposed law, can move in and investigate the political organizations in New York City, the acts of its workers on election day, or the activities — prior to as well as after an election — carried on by any political bosses or organizations in Chicago or Detroit or any of the other big cities throughout the country.

These have always been obligations of state law enforcement.

What the new "civil rights" bill amounts to is a federal license to penetrate any local political organization to determine whether or not it is keeping within the bounds set by the party in power in Washington or by the federal judges who, without a jury trial, can inflict a 45 day jail penalty for "coercion."

There is to be no assurance, either, of a jury trial. Only if the penalty given at the trial by the judge is beyond 45 days imprisonment is a jury trial to be required when a defendant requests it.

NO CITIZEN will want the stigma of a conviction — with even a one day penalty — to be put on his record as a citizen. So the threat to punish unless the federal policeman is obeyed will probably be effective.

Thus are rights of the states taken away "under color of law" which really means under the totalitarian doctrine that "the end justifies the means."

It's a sad chapter in American history—a turn back to the tragic years of the "reconstruction era" and to the reactionary concept that an intolerant majority can at any time ignore the constitutional rights of the states.

Undulant Fever

Several correspondents, including Mrs. J.S., have recently requested another discussion of undulant fever.

This is a rather common disease which is a source of great concern to health officials and physicians. This disease and its relatives are also important to livestock and dairy interests since germs of this group may produce abortion in cattle and other illness.

Undulant fever is one of several kinds of brucellosis — a germ disease. One of the difficulties with human brucellosis is that it is a disease which can cause many different kinds of symptoms.

In a typical acute attack, fever, chills, sennations, excessive sweating, loss of weight, pains in the muscles and headache are quite common. Fever is generally present which tends to go up and down in a wavelike manner. It is this characteristic which has given it the name of undulant fever.

However, the disease often does not show typical symptoms and can be confused with other conditions. It is sometimes responsible for backaches and other signs of muscular or joint rheumatism.

Several years ago one of the leading research workers on this disease contracted it but was considered to be suffering from some obscure nervous ailment for many years before the true cause was identified.

As a general rule, brucellosis is a chronic and long-lasting condition. It is difficult to diagnose because there is no single test which identifies it with certainty except a blood test which sometimes fails to reveal it even when present.

It is also difficult to treat because it calls not only for control of the infection, but elimination of the germ from the body. Probably the most promising treatment consists in administering mixtures of various sulfa drugs and antibiotics.

Epidemics have been reported from germ-infected milk. In fact, the disease is usually contracted by drinking infected milk or coming in contact with meat from infected animals. It attacks many animals and this fact has made it necessary in many cases to destroy whole herds or flocks.

Although brucellosis remains a serious health problem, some progress is being made. It is being fought in livestock on farms. Research work on better methods of diagnosis and treatment are being carried out in many laboratories throughout the world.

The elimination of the disease in dairy herds and other livestock, the use of pasteurized milk and care in avoiding infection by contact with infected meats should do much to cut down the danger of contracting brucellosis.

British Union

By VICTOR RIESEL

Knighthood is in flower here while rackets bloom back home. This I knew when I ran into the stage hands union chief, Tom O'Brien, at the Ivy which is London town's Sardi's. He is a genial fellow in evening clothes and I was startled when I heard him addressed as Sir Thomas. He had been knighted for his labor leadership since I was here last.

The honor is great. The cash isn't. I inquired discreetly what he earned a year. This came to the equivalent of $4,500, or about $90 a week.

Let's say that this is worth twice as much in London as it is in New York because the cost of living is lower. We still have one of Britain's great union leaders and former chief of the entire labor movement of nine million members earning the equivalent of $180 weekly.

THERE ARE only a few who top him. There is, for example, Frank Cousins, Britain's counterpart of Dave Beck. In position only, that is.

Mr. Cousins really is more powerful than the president of the American Teamsters union, for Mr. Cousins leads the General Transport Workers, proportionate by the world's largest and most powerful.

Yet Mr. Cousins earns slightly less than $6,000 a year, or about $125 a week—just about what Beck pays a night for his room in Miami Beach.

Compare this with Beck's $50,000 a year and unlimited expenses. And talking about expenses, I was told not to jest about so serious a matter, you know, when I told some of my British labor friends about the lives and times of some of the American laborites who are not so friendly.

This is all very "incredible" to our British colleagues. The highest, internationally famous British labor leaders travel on two pounds five shillings a day.

Brother Beck might be interested in learning that this adds up to $6.30 a day—if the British labor chiefs spend a full day away.

IF IT'S JUST a short overnight trip, the expense allowance comes down to four dollars "for a good second rate" hotel and breakfast. "We're not on holiday, you know," the British tell you.

Now this is only for the top leadership. If a lesser light travels, the British counterpart of a small union president or business agent, he gets all of 30 shillings—or about $4.20 a day.

If the boys must go to Paris or elsewhere in Europe, they can get as much as $15 daily. But that takes some argument with the executive committee.

And you just don't draw what you want. All checks are signed by two out of three authorized check signers.

One is the union chief, generally the national secretary here. The other two have as much power as he has. They're appointed by the union executive committee.

But let's get back to the national salaries. A top wage here for prominent men inside labor is about $70 weekly.

THE AVERAGE labor official gets under $60 a week, or just a little better than the top average workman's wage of $40 weekly.

I hope there is no run on nerve specialists or cardiac centers after this dispatch—but no one could find a local union officer anywhere in Britain who is paid more than a token salary of $60 a year.

That's right. The local labor men volunteer. It's an honor here. The community respects you because you're obviously doing it for your fellow man.

A friend put it this way: "We know we are not rich men. But we're rich in tradition and honor and philosophy. We're labor leaders not businessmen. If Mr. X, a labor leader, suddenly moved in to a big house and sported a new car and moved into Mayfair, we'd look into it."

"And if we discovered he had inherited a fortune or married a rich widow, we'd sack him and say fine, let his wife care for him now. We want no rich men in our labor movement."

There are no gimmicks either. The union will not buy a labor leader a house. It will lend him a car, not give it to him. It will not lend him money.

It will not let an official invest the union funds.

NO UNION OFFICIAL can live opulently in one part of the country and come into London in a frayed jacket. This is a tight island and no part is more than 12 hours distant from the other. Usually most centers are six hours away by fast train. The rank and file know exactly how their chiefs live.

Furthermore the unions just don't accumulate enough wealth for vast manipulations. They use it for their members. The British counterpart of the Teamsters have 18 million dollars in assets, while the U.S. association for the advancement of Dave Beck has 40 million in cash alone.

And there are no testimonial dinners. This I discovered only after I explained at great length to my British hosts, who for once lost their reserve and laughed aloud. "Testimonial dinner, indeed," my host said. "That's the first we heard of it. If any money is raised at a banquet, it is for the membership."

"If a union official took a shilling directly or indirectly from the members or an employer through such an artifice, we'd sack him."

And that's why no rackets bloom where knighthood is in flower.

The Man Is Worried

By TRUMAN TWILL

I have been reading what the surgeon general of the United States thinks about the Asian flu epidemic that is almost certain to knock the props from under untempest millions of us this winter. The man is worried.

If Dr. Leroy E. Burney's educated guess is confirmed by experience when this rambunctious virus starts to whizz from person to person, assisted by the necessity of human huddling during the cold months, there will be 35 million of us laid low for a fortnight apiece.

This will raise Cain in general and in particular with our accustomed way of life. But the significant thing is that for the first time in our history as a nation a public health crisis is being charted in advance. The element of surprise that upsets personal and group routines when illness strikes has been discounted.

It remains to be seen, what advantage can be and will be taken of the medically foreseeable in this kind of a situation. Specifically, it remains to be seen what will be done personally and collectively to cope with what is coming.

The problem is to cushion the impact on routines of living so that each personal attack of Asian flu will not precipitate a crisis.

But when the symptoms of the infection do become manifest, will there be a procedure agreed on in advance to deal with the consequences?

Or will each of us and all of us behave as if we had been confronted with a bolt from the blue, with the cupboard bare and not even a supply of sedatives in the medicine cabinet to ease the misery?

Will there have been prearranged methods for getting the necessary work done and for shelving unnecessary work until a later date? Or will the supposedly inexorable grind of daily living add its impersonal burden to the misery of a painful and weakening illness?

The answers to these questions cannot be reassuring. Most of us are incapable of making allowances for the possibility — in this case the probability — that we will be under the weather sooner or later. We choose to believe it is going to be later, if ever.

The show must go on, pip-pip and muddle - through! Drug manufacturers are knocking themselves out to produce and distribute enough Asian flu vaccine to take the edge off the expected epidemic, but the surgeon general admits there will be trouble persuading people to take advantage of the supply. The manufacturers have been making vaccine for flu for many years without any boom market for their product.

It looks like a long, hard winter. I must remember to stop on the way home for a basket of bread to put in the freezer, a stack of comic books, a peck of sedatives, a fortnight's supply of chewing gum, a box of bouillon cubes, a jug of Old Sother and a hot-water bottle. Also to put in a call to Old Doc for a place on his waiting list for Asian flu vaccine and to tell him how to find my hideaway in Rural Free Delivery, in the event all else fails.

(From the Ghost of John McGraw to the owners of the Giants.)

Gents: Get ready for troublesome nights. If I ever wanted to haunt somebody's house this is it. Me and my ghost have talked it over, but we are revolving so fast it is hard to hear each other.

After 75 years no Giant baseball team in little old New York! Coogan's Bluff just a slice of real estate!

No riots, no cheers, no jeers, no aroma of hotdogs, no fights with the umps above the banks of the Harlem!

The Giants shipped across to the Pacific Coast like a carload of fish or meat. (Excuse me. The ghost of Christy Mathewson just went by all in a lather yelling, "Let me at 'em," and I had to stop writing and try to cool him off a little.)

WHEN WE OLD-TIMERS first got the rumors the Giants would be sold to San Francisco it was treated like a joke. It seemed cockeyed. But now that we know the foul deed is done and that everything but the memories, the legends and the traditions have been wrapped up, sealed and delivered, we know it is true and we Giants of yesterday are pretty sore.

(I just heard a terrible whirling sound and it seems it is the ghost of Turkey Mike Donlin who is demanding a permit to haunt certain baseball folks with a tommyhawk.)

IT IS EASIER for me to believe Park Row has been switched to the Philippines and that the Harlem River just auctioned off to some mayor from southern California.

The New York Giants were part and parcel of the metropolis. They were as interwoven into it as the subway, the orange drink stands, Madison Square Garden, Battery Park and the Metropolitan Opera House.

There were long years when the Giants exerted such influence and commanded so much loyalty that anybody even suggesting a "For Sale" sign on the club would have been tarred and feathered.

Mayors, city councils, political leaders, civic notables and millionaire businessmen would have been outraged.

(Excuse me again. I had to drop my pen on account of a disturbance which turned out to be the ghosts of Iron Man McGinnity and Breshnah fighting for the honor of haunting the Stoe-ham apartment.)

WE OLD-TIME GIANTS just don't dig it. Competition got tough, the fans fell off, the team met with hard times and of course in these days there is the problem of high taxes, ample parking lots and other headaches we didn't have in my day. But it is hard to believe there was no other way out.

Our cities, states and nations spend millions for good will, big-time advertising, prestige, fame, popularity, etc.

It's easy to get a boodle anytime to promote peace happiness and all the purposes of the multiple do-gooders.

Foundations are a soft touch for most anything. Yet baseball, a game which is the kids' game and which provides joy for millions of grownups, can die in any American city in a cold business deal, with no philanthropist or do-gooder visible.

WELL, FAIR WARNING. You're in for sleepless nights, strange knockings on the wall and ectoplasms rising in the shadows. I'll be seeing you.

Ohio State Fair Turnout Drops

Cattle, Swine Judging Is Now in Full Swing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Officials are still watching attendance and the youngsters are still crowding into the shows, but the big topic at the Ohio State Fair now is livestock.

Cattle and swine judging is in full swing. Monday saw hundreds of entries in the All American Brown Swiss Futurity and hundreds more in the angus, hereford, shorthorn and other events.

Another heavy judging schedule is in full swing today, with the National Merino in the sheep division and the Jersey Jug National Futurity in the cattle division highlighting a host of other livestock shows.

Monday, John McKittrick of the Welcome In Farm at Dublin won the All - American Brown Swiss Futurity with his 2-year-old cow, Welcime In Jade. He'll get prize money estimated at $2,500.

In the angus class, first prize went to Larry Earhart, 20, president of the Junior Fair. His sister Janet is Junior Fair queen. Jim Hoover, 17, of Canal Winchester showed the champion female angus; Joe Isler Jr., of Prospect fielded the best shorthorn in Future Farmers of America competition, and Jim Rengert of Mount Gilead took the showmanship award in the hereford class.

Attendance at the fair still isn't measuring up to early hopes. Sunday's paid attendance was 74,449, compared to a Sunday crowd last year of 90,991. Observers said Monday's turnout was lower than Sunday's.

The Ernie Ford show Monday drew a fair-sized crowd. He and his troupe will give afternoon and evening performances today.

In the Free-For-All Trot, featured race at the state fair track, Empress Rodney Monday trotted the distance in 2:03 2-5 to break a track record established in 1953 by Lady Dunn, clocked at 2:04. Empress Rodney, owned by J.B. Carnes of Canton and driven by William "Doc" McMillen, was $1,500 in prize money.

Harness racing was scheduled to continue this afternoon. The horse show will be at the Coliseum tonight.

Mrs. Harry Toomajian

Miss Jane Avery Myers Is Bride of Harry Toomajian

The St. John's Armenian Apostolic Church of Detroit, Mich., was the scene of the Sunday afternoon wedding of Miss Jane Avery Myers and Harry Toomajian.

Rev. Arak Kasparian, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Elmer Myers of 1084 Cleveland St.; and the son of Kachador Toomajian of Detroit and the late Mrs. Toomajian.

Vases of white gladiolas and chrysanthemums were arranged on the tiered altar, with high baskets filled with white gladiolas and chrysanthemums placed before the seven-branch candelabras. Organist Mrs. Harry Ekizian presented nuptial selections which included Oh, Promise Me and The Lord's Prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractively gowned in a champagne gown of imported lace and silk satin. In the princess style, the floor length skirt featured alternating panels of imported lace and silk; and a petal point neckline-effect enhanced the bodice. Her gown had long tapered sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place with a lace cap trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white carnations, accented by green ivy.

Mrs. William Salmen of Detroit, the former Nora Guiler of Salem, was the honor matron for the bride, and wore a pastel pink gown of satin and tulle. The lace bodice was enhanced with a bouffant ballerina skirt, and she wore a matching tulle headband accented with tiny pink rosebuds. Her bouquet was of matching pink carnations and cascades of ivy.

Best man for the bridegroom was Arthur Mardigian of Detroit, while the ushers were Ed Vosigian and John Pinkstaff of Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Myers created an ice blue lace over tulle creation with matching accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Over 175 guests greeted the couple at the bridal reception held in the Golden Gavel Room of Jeri's Cocktail Lounge in Detroit. About 30 members of the immediate families enjoyed a dinner prior to the reception.

Baskets of white gladiolas and carnations were placed at each end of the l-shaped tables, and a four tier torte cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple and encircled with white carnations and green fern.

The guests came from Salem, North Benton, West Lafayette, and Detroit, Roseville, Dearborn, Ferndale, Royal Oak, Inkster.

When the newlyweds departed for a tour of the upper Michigan area, Mrs. Toomajian was wearing a black shantung sheath dress with a striped jacket and black and white accessories.

Upon their return from their trip, the couple will reside at 12731 Hartwell in Detroit.

A 1954 graduate of Salem High School, the bride attended Cass Technological School and is a secretary to the display director of the Ernst Kern Co. in Detroit.

Mr. Toomajian attended Wayne University in Detroit and was graduated in 1948 from the Cass Technological School. He is a tool and die designer.

The rehearsal dinner was an event of Thursday evening at the Toomajian home when friends of the Kern Co. display staff and neighbors were guests. A dinner was held Wednesday evening at the Toomajian residence for the bridal party and friends of the couple.

Kinn-Miller Vows Spoken In Albany, N. Y. Church

Miss Rita Marie Kinn became the bride of Donald N. Miller in a wedding ceremony performed Saturday morning in the St. Mathew's Lutheran Church of Albany, N.Y.

Rev. Arthur Steinke officiated at the ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kinn of 24 Marinelle Terrace, Albany, former Salem residents; and the son of Mrs. Grant Miller of Albany and the late Mr. Miller.

The soloist was Miss Irene Dou-

lons. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a point de esprit over faille tulle gown with a shirred fitted bodice and a sweetheart neckline accented with lace medallions. The gown also featured long pointed sleeves and a very full bouffant skirt accented with lace appliques.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of swansonia, stephanotis, and ivy.

Bridesmaid Mrs. Charles Roarke was gowned like the honor attendant but carried deep pink and white roses and ivy.

Best man for the bridegroom was Jack Miller while the ushers were Edwin Mendrysa, Albert Kinn, brother of the bride, and Jeffrey Miller, the bridegroom's cousin.

The wedding reception was held in the Center Inn in Glenmont, N.Y.

When the couple left for a trip to Canada, Mrs. Miller was attired in a beige suit and hat with alligator accessories and a corsage of bronze pompons.

An Albany High School graduate, Mrs. Miller is employed by the National Commercial Bank and Trust Co.

Mr. Miller, an Albany High School graduate, served four years in the Navy and will attend Hudson Valley Technical Institute in the fall.

Miss Rosemary Jean Lough Is Bride Of Kenneth Andrus

California is the honeymoon destination of Kenneth Russell Andrus and his bride, the former Miss Rosemary Jean Lough, following their marriage Friday in the First Presbyterian Church.

The couple exchanged rings before the altar graced with baskets of white gladioli and mums.

Rev. A. Laten Carter performed the ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mrs. Clifford Nutter of Akron and A. B. Lough of Kent, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Andrus of 176 W. 9th St.

Wedding selections were played by Homer Taylor.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her ballerina-length gown was of white lace over tulle. A fingertip veil completed her ensemble. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses and baby carnations on a white Bible.

Miss Shirley Andrus, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of pink crystalite, with matching hat and shoes. Pink roses and carnations formed her nosegay.

Ronald Schmidbauer of East Liverpool, served as best man.

The bride's mother wore a blue and white dress, and the bridegroom's mother chose a navy and white dress. Both wore corsages of white roses.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. The 60 guests were present from Salem, East Liverpool, Lisbon, Kent, Warren and East Palestine.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and floral bouquets decorated the refreshment table. Hostesses were Mrs. Helen Esterly and Mrs. Jane Bigelow of Kent. The bride, a 1954 graduate of

Mrs. Kenneth Andrus

Ravenna High School, attended Kent State University and was employed in the business office at the university.

A 1951 graduate of East Liverpool High School, the bridegroom was recently discharged from the Navy after serving four years. He will enter Ohio University at Athens in September.

the grounds, connecting with Leffingwell Road, thus providing exit facilities for all who head south from the fair grounds. There will no longer be any reason for traffic jams at the exits leading out into Rt. 46.

Three days of harness racing will be featured on the fair on Friday, Saturday and Labor Day. For the first time, local industry is making a real appearance at the fair with a huge tent in which the theme of safety will be stressed. "Safety from the Cradle through Retirement" will be the center of interest in the tent, which is the first air conditioned tent ever to be erected on the fairgrounds.

Entries in the cattle, sheep and swine divisions are heavy. Special events such as the tractor rodeo, the pig iron derby, and pony pulling contests will be held in front of the grandstand throughout the fair.

MAHONING Valley high school bands will appear before the grandstand on Sunday afternoon in a "Serenade" scheduled for 4.

Live exhibits have been worked into the displays to be found in Educational Hall. This means that instead of inanimate displays of work long completed, fairgoers will be seeing young people at work on many interesting projects.

The talent show and baton twirling contest that will run Saturday through Labor Day will feature hundreds of young people.

A religious service is scheduled for the 4-H Auditorium on Sunday morning.

AREA HIGH SCHOOL bands will supply daily musical entertainment. The concerts will take place in the early afternoon in an area west of the grandstand. School bands scheduled to serenade the fair visitors are: North Lima, Sebring, Canfield, Goshen, Jackson-Milton, Boardman, Greenford, Poland, Springfield, Austintown, and North Jackson.

There will also be a concert by a 125-piece unit made up of bandmen from the area's parochial schools, directed by Carmen Piccolini.

Other music makers set to appear at the Canfield Fair are the Canfield American Legion band and Fairmount Children's Home band.

ceeds a fine of $300 or 45 days in jail.

Maximum penalty under a jury conviction would be $1,000 fine and six months in jail.

Other features of the bill were among those requested by Eisenhower.

The bill would set up a special bipartisan civil rights commission to make a two-year study of civil rights problems. It would also create a new civil rights division in the Justice Department to be headed by an assistant attorney general.

Eisenhower was reported to approve of the compromise and was expected to sign it if it reaches his desk.

Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) summed up the Dixie view of the compromise by saying it "blackmailed" defendants into accepting a court-imposed penalty rather than risk a larger sentence in a jury trial.

But Rep. Hale (R-Maine) said the compromise was "probably as fair and equitable as could reasonably have been devised."

truck driver and day watchman at gunpoint on the street floor while the other two went to the credit department on a balcony and began work on the safes.

As employees and construction workers remodeling the store entered the building they were herded into a small office. The gunmen remained in the store for about an hour. They attempted to open a third safe but apparently became frightened when too many people started coming in.

The truck driver was slugged on the head with a blackjack by one of the robbers when he tried to tell the day watchman to remain quiet so he wouldn't get hurt.

Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, said that as he read the statement broadcast by Moscow radio Monday the Soviets are saying "they have completed the test necessary to construct an operational intercontinental ballistic missile."

"They probably could have made this announcement some time ago but I believe it was timed for propaganda purposes in connection with the developments in Syria and for its effect on NATO maneuvers," Jackson said. "The Russians are engaging in ballistic blackmail, following up the same sort of gestures they made earlier against Norway, Britain and other of our allies. Nevertheless, their statement should not be dismissed as all propaganda."

Jackson, who said a year ago that the Russians were ahead of the United States in the over-all development of missiles, said he believes the contest to develop a missile of 5,000-mile range now is in the neck-and-neck stage.

Asked by a reporter if this meant the United States also has tested long-range missiles, Jackson said only that this country is making substantial progress but has not yet built operational missiles in either the intermediate or long ranges. An intermediate range missile is one capable of spanning 1,500 miles.

Slain Girl, 15, Identified by Family Dentist

CHICAGO (AP)—A special roving police task force today hunted painstakingly for clues in the West Side neighborhood of a 15-year-old girl whose headless body was found floating in two oil cans in Lake Michigan last week.

The last lingering doubt about the identity of the bloated, dismembered body appeared removed Monday night after the family dentist identified his patient, Judith Mae Andersen, as the victim whose cut-up body was found last week in the North Side Montrose Harbor.

Dr. Mitchell Juliusen examined the body and corroborated findings of fingerprint experts and other police investigators. He said dental charts of Judith Mae and those of the victim were identical.

With identification established, police began checking out other leads in the bizarre slaying.

Police files showed that anonymous telephone call was received at 11:26 p.m. Aug. 16 that a girl was screaming in an automobile at the south edge of the Austin High School campus, about 1 1/2 miles south of the Andersen home on the far West Side. The incident occurred some 11 minutes after Judith Mae had started home from a girl friend's house on the night she disappeared.

Six days later a cut-down oil drum was found in Montrose Harbor on Chicago's North Side. It contained a torso, with the head, hands and a forearm missing. These were found two days later in a second, smaller can, lifted from the water in the same area.

The coroner's office said the victim was killed one to three days before the first can was found. Police said this might mean the girl was held a captive for three to five days before being murdered.

The girl's clothing has not been found.

The girl's father, Ralph Andersen, 41, a bookbinding foreman, who refused to believe his daughter was the victim until confronted by the dental and fingerprint identifications, told newsmen he believed the killer was someone who knew Judith.

29 Teams Entered In Softball Invitational Tourney Here

More Expected To Enter Event

Play Is Scheduled To Begin Friday

Twenty-nine topflight teams from northeastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania have entered the 10-day Salem invitational softball tournament thus far, and it is expected that at least three more will be in the fold by tourney time, according to Dave Briskin, tourney director.

Play will get underway Friday evening at Kelley Park, with the first contest scheduled to start at 7. Play will continue with four games Saturday night, and three afternoon tilts and three evening encounters will be held Sunday.

Three more games will be played Monday evening, which should complete the first round of play. The Youngstown area will have 10 teams in action: Aerolite, Crawford Gifts, Squirt and Dads, Hollow A.C., and Krieler for Mayor of Youngstown, are booked.

Gard's Hill Hubbell, McDonald CIO 1307 and Youngstown Local 2357 are also entered, along with Lawrence Tailors of Struthers.

Can'ton entries include Babcock for Mayor, CIO Local 4396, Canton Drop Forge and Ashland Oils. Akron's Joe's All-Stars and Lindsey Lithographs represent the Rubber City. Warren's Automatic Vendors and Warren Moose, along with Fratani Excavating of Cleveland are other top notch area teams which will see action.

Salem's Herron's Transfer and Hendron's Tavern, along with Stephanie's of Kensington and Old Dutch of Alliance will represent the local AA league here.

Eljer's and the Electric Furnace, top industrial league teams locally, also will see action.

The Smithfield Falcon A.C. and teams from East Palestine and East Liverpool are other Ohio aggregations entered.

Pennsylvania entries are Farrell Num-Num Potato Chips and Zirat Electric of Beaver Falls.

The tournament is a single elimination affair with the winner, runner-up and consolation winner getting the trophies.

A donation of 50 cents will be asked at each session. However a pass for the entire tournament for $2.50 can be obtained from Briskin.

Bloomberg's Edges Drive-In; Homeworth, Eljer Also Win

Kenny Bruderly of the Salem Drive-In struck out 14 Bloomberg Satters and gave up just two hits, but the Bloomberg team, behind the six-hit pitching of Bill Buchman, edged the Drive-In 2-1 in a city league playoff game at Kelley Park Monday night.

In two other playoff contests held at Kelley, the girls' team from Homeworth upset Purity Dairy 8-5, and Eljer downed the Electric Furnace nine 5-1, in an industrial tilt.

Bruderly struck out the side in both the second and fifth frames, and at least one or two batters every inning during the game.

Bloomberg's scored first in the bottom of the third frame. Capel lined to second and Shaffer walked. D. Stanley struck out and Shaffer scored on an error. R. Stanley struck out.

Salem Drive-In bounced back in the top of the fourth inning. Yeagley singled to center, moved to second on an error, stole third and scored on another error.

Ferguson walked and D. Bruderly forced Ferguson at second. Feicht singled to left, D. Bruderly taking third. Dickinson walked, loading the bases, and Hamilton forced D. Bruderly at home. K. Bruderly lined to first.

The winning Bloomberg run was tallied in the last half of the seventh canto. Allison walked, Buchman struck out and Limpore walked. Klein doubled to right, scoring Allison to end the game.

Homeworth cashed in on Purity Dairy's sloppy fielding, as the Purity team committed seven errors and had one of those nights where everything seemed to be going wrong. Purity outlived the winners 11 to nine.

Homeworth took a 4-0 lead in the first inning, but, by the end of the third, Purity had the game deadlocked. The winners were not to be denied, however, and scored one run in the fifth and three more in the final two cantos.

In the top of the seventh, the Homeworth team wrapped it up with two big markers. McQuillen singled to center and Stoffer forced McQuillen at second.

Wagner singled to left and Grim grounded out short to first. Stoffer scored. Griener was safe on an error, with Wagner scoring, and Davidson fouled to first.

Eljer scored three big runs in the first inning and was never headed thereafter. The Furnace team never seemed to get started.

In the first for Eljer, Dickey walked and advanced on an error. Parrish walked and W. Miller also got a free trip, loading the bases. H. Miller walked, forcing in Dickey, and Odorizzi forced Parrish at the plate.

Peppel forced W. Miller at the plate and Stoffer singled to left field, driving in two runs. Bryson walked, loading the bases, and Patterson struck out.

Giants Swamp Redlegs 17-3

New Yorkers Outthit Cincinnati 19-13

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Clutch hitting has never been the strongest point of the Cincinnati Redlegs. A humiliating lesson by the New York Giants points this out with great clarity.

The Giants outthit the Reds, 19-13, Monday in a free - swinging contest, but the slumping Reds were overwhelmed 17-3 — their worst beating this season.

Smoky Burgess was the highlighter for the Reds, belting a pair of doubles and a triple.

But in the clutch, the team twice failed to get a solid hit with one out and the bases loaded.

Burgess' first double and Roy McMillan's single brought in the first Redleg run in the second inning, but the lead faded fast.

The Giants slammed five runs across in the third inning. Five more in the sixth, six in the seventh and one more in the eighth.

The Rhinelanders, meanwhile, picked up a single run in the fourth on Burgess' triple and a single by Don Hoak, and again in the sixth when Wally Post singled and scored on Burgess' double.

Six Redleg hurlers, starting with Vincente Amor, tried to stem the waves of Giant hitting with indifferent success.

Four hits, including Willie Mays' two-run triple, got the Giants off to a 5-1 start in the third.

On the second set of five Giant markers, home runs by Danny O'Connell and Hank Sauer accounted for all the scoring and limited reliever Johnny Klippstein's appearance to a single inning.

The big seventh inning blast, when six more runs scored, came on seven hits—all singles.

The Redlegs — including some arm-weary hurlers—left after the game for Philadelphia. Two games are planned here with the Phillies.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts was left behind for a conference on pitching with General Manager Gabe Paul, who flew East from Cincinnati.

"We need some fresh pitchers badly," Tebbetts said.

The field manager is slated to rejoin the team for tonight's game, which pits Joe Nuxhall against Harvie Haddix.

Booster Club Sets Meeting Thursday

The Salem Boosters Club will hold its first football meeting of the 1957 season at Centennial Park pavilion Number 2 at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The meeting, arranged especially for parents of football players, is being held to discuss the rules of eligibility, accident insurance, and the training regulations.

Tribe to Stick With Veterans

Farrell Can't Afford To Utilize Rookies

CLEVELAND (AP)—With the 1957 baseball season almost over and all chance of winning the pennant gone for his Cleveland Indians, Manager Kerby Farrell would like to get some of his rookie prospects into the game.

But Farrell can't afford to keep veterans like Jim Hegan, Al Smith, Vic Wertz and Gene Woodling on the bench. Only a half-game behind the Baltimore Orioles, who open a three-game series here tonight, Farrell is hoping for a fifth-place finish.

"I'm going to keep catching Hegan and play Smith in center and keep Dick Williams at third," Farrell said.

"And as soon as Vic Wertz is able he'll play first. And I don't dare take Woodling out. He's been our offense."

Farrell said he would play the experienced men in the Baltimore series and hinted that he might finish the season with them.

"Get this straight," said Farrell, "I still have a lot of confidence in the kids. They're big and strong and they are going to make it up here and this year hasn't hurt them, even though they have not done as well as expected. They've been learning."

"Sure," if Roger Maris and Rocky Colavito had hit for us we might be eight games better than we are now. And Russ Nixon looks good a few days and then bad. But they're still in the process of learning the strike zone up here."

"Larry Raines has played only two years in the minors. He hasn't played much up here but he has learned while sitting on the bench."

"They'll all make good. You wait and see."

Redlegs Recall Thurman To Replace Gus Bell

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bob Thurman is coming back from the minor leagues to fill in for outfielder Gus Bell—lost to the Cincinnati Redlegs for the rest of the season with a fractured foot bone.

Redleg officials reported the change Monday and said that pitcher Vincent Amor would be released on waivers to make room for Thurman. A player cannot be put on the disabled list after Aug. 1.

Bell's injury, first thought to be an ankle sprain, was detected by X-rays Monday. The fracture came in a sliding mishap at Pittsburgh last week.

Thurman started with the Reds this year and was batting .251 when optioned to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League Aug. 1. Amor compiled a 1-2 record after coming up from Havana of the International League.

Logan Batcheller and Nick Shuk are the only jockeys who have won Atlantic City's Boardwalk Handicap twice. They did it two years in a row, Batcheller in 1954-55 and Shuk in 1953-54. The feature was run in two divisions in 1953-54.

Casey Nervous As Slipping Yanks Face White Sox in 3-Game Series

By The Associated Press

Maybe there is going to be a race in the American League after all. The New York Yankees look bad and Manager Casey Stengel looks nervous.

Faced by a three-game showdown against the Chicago White Sox opening tonight in Comiskey Park, O' Case played a hunch and came off second best in Detroit Monday as the Tigers cracked the Yankees 5-2 and whittled their lead to 3½ games. It was New York's fifth defeat in seven games.

Which means the second-place White Sox, who have won six straight, can edge within three percentage points of the champs — if they can sweep the three-game set.

Only one other AL game was scheduled Monday and as far as the A's are concerned it shuddered in Kansas City. Boston bopped 'em 16-0.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves slipped to a seven-game edge over idle St. Louis and Brooklyn in a 4-3 defeat at Philadelphia. That gave the Phils sole possession of fourth place as the New York Giants clubbed Cincinnati to fifth 17-3.

Stengel, with pitching worries aplenty, started southpaw Tommy Byrne against the Tigers. But when the veteran hit a batter, walked another, gave up a home run to slugging Al

Minnesota All Set to Challenge Defending Champ Iowa in Big 10

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota, boasting an all-veteran starting lineup headed by All America candidate Bobby Cox, is all set to challenge Iowa's defending champions in the upcoming Big Ten football race.

Right along with the Gophers and Hawks will be Michigan State and Michigan while Ohio State and Northwestern loom as darkhorses. That seems to be the situation as the Western Conference prepares to launch another campaign with most of the teams scheduled to open drills Saturday.

Last year Iowa was expected to be an also ran. Instead Coach Forrest Evashevski's crew won the title and went on to defeat Oregon State in the Rose Bowl. This year, Illinois, Purdue, Wisconsin and Indiana fall into the "also ran" category.

Iowa is the team to beat. The Hawks lost quarterback Ken Ploen and end Frank Gilliam but they have 21 lettermen returning. Back again is end Jim Gibbons, tackles Alex Karras and Dick Klein both of whom anchored Iowa's stout defense, halfbacks Collins Hagler and Bill Hapfel and fullbacks John Nocera and Fred Harris.

Ready to take over at quarterback is Randy Duncan. Duncan is not the ball handler or runner Ploen was but he is rated a much better passer. For this reason, Evashevski is expected to lean toward the standard T-formation rather than the winged-T.

Murray Warmath has 27 lettermen returning at Minnesota and is better than two-deep at every position. Cox, rated one of the finest split-T quarterbacks in the country, will be backed by Dick Larson, also a letter winner.

The Gophers have a powerful line headed by Frank Youso and flanked by Jon Jericic and Perry Gehring. In the backfield are such veterans as Ken Bombardier, Bob Solits, Bob Schultz, Dave Lindbloom and fullback Dick Borstad.

Michigan will rely on the power plays of fullback John Herstein who scored 42 points last season and the passing and running of quarterback Jim Van Pelt and tailback Jim Pace. Lost are ends Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz but Gary Prahn—considered another Kramer—and Chuck Teuscher are ready to step in.

Michigan State could take all the marbles if the Spartans aren't hit by another injury bout. Considered a sure-bet last season, Michigan State finished the campaign with eight regulars sidelined by injuries. Coach Duffy Daugherty has 27 letter winners including halfbacks Walt Kowalczyk and Blanche Martin, center Dan Currie, tackle Pat Burke, ends Tony Kolodziej and Dave Kaiser—hero of the 1956 Rose Bowl champions—and fullback Dan Gilbert.

Ohio State lost a lot through graduation but the Buckeyes, who always come up with a wealth of material, are optimistic. Guard Aurelius Thomas is back as is halfback Dan Clark and fullback Glen Cisco. However, Coach Woody Hayes must come up with a quarterback. Best bets are Frank Kremlas and Andy Okulovich, both fine passers.

Northwestern, last year's surprise, has seven regulars back in its list of 14 lettermen. Once again depth could be the big problem at Evanston. Coach Ara Par-

MOTION ASKS DIMISSAL

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE. Ohio—A motion asking dismissal of an indictment against Beverly Clickner Walls, accused of embezzling $9,874 from Washington Court House High School, was asked Monday by her attorneys. They claimed that John Trace, former principal of the school and a star witness in the case, is now an education director on Guam and is not available for testimony here.
